

My name is Dwayne Brice.

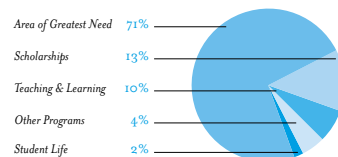

I'm a sophomore neuroscience major at Oberlin and a Project Excellence scholarship recipient. By making this investment in my future, Oberlin College and Project Excellence, both of which fund the scholarship, have made an enormous difference in my life. They believe I can succeed at whatever I choose.

I was accepted at several schools, but I chose Oberlin because of its strong science programs and the close relationship between the Conservatory and the College. Oberlin's broad range of resources and programs allows my interests to become learning experiences in and out of the classroom. The avenues I've been able to explore include playing violin with the Oberlin College Community Strings, taking a course on issues in medical ethics, and interning at Baltimore's Franklin Hughes Medical Center. I'm also a student member of a faculty committee that helps direct a campus-wide examination of diversity issues.

My family and I are glad I chose Oberlin. I know my education will create opportunities for me in whatever I choose to do, be it medicine, law, or another option I haven't yet discovered. If Oberlin opened doors for you, I hope you'll make a gift to The Oberlin Fund.
