

My name is Daniel Huri.

I'm a junior majoring in neuroscience and biology. I came here interested in the law, but during my first year I took courses in chemistry and organismal biology—I took acting and English courses, too—that drew me to the sciences. I plan to go to medical school and pursue a career in pediatric neurosurgery.

My time at Oberlin has been filled with opportunity and discovery. Last year I completed a winter-term project at the University of Cincinnati's Vontz Center for Cell and Molecular Studies that led to a summer internship researching the treatment of brain hemorrhages and strokes.

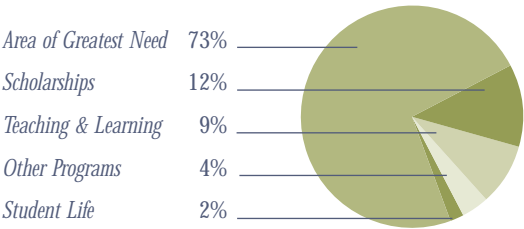

Alumni have been part of my education since I first arrived on campus. I work as a student fund-raiser for The Oberlin Fund's phoning program, and while talking with alumni I've received advice about life at Oberlin and medical school. I always thank donors because I've benefited tremendously from their support and I know other students have, too.

Please make a difference for current students with your gift to The Oberlin Fund this year.

“My time at Oberlin has been filled with opportunity and discovery.”
